Message From President Stacey Voit

Greetings to all during this seemingly never-ending winter!

I am truly honored to take up the reins from our amazing past president Pat Steege. This terrific honor punctuates my personal history with MFMC, allowing me to review other memories of my time with our organization.

At the very first state meeting I attended, Gloria Lien, President of MFMC at that time, used . . . wait for it . . . a gavel? I was in awe of belonging to such a professional group.

The crowning of Cheryl Schmidt as “Queen of MFMC” by Mary Angela Strasser assured me I had found a fun-loving group of people I needed to get to know better.

I recall the state meeting hosted by Music Southwest in Marshall under the direction of Rennae Petersen and the late Jane Roots. These are the two ladies who led me to first join Federation and to whom I will always be grateful.

I was astounded at the amount of detail in Chris Wolf’s informative Festival Music Workshops; what an amazing dedication to sharing of knowledge!

Finally, while attending my first national meeting in Minneapolis, I greatly admired the state leadership and planners. Their work was a showcase of Minnesota music and will remain forever in my memory.

We all have had defining moments in MFMC and I hope to continue the great work of our preceding leadership.

Our strength is our membership, especially our core of independent teachers and musicians. We support one another, acting as role models through our unique blend of individuality and strength. No one member is more important than another. It is through our individuality that we find our strength as a group. We learn as others share their history and experiences. We learn other possibilities that are open to us and to our students. We rejoice in our membership and accomplishments, while we mourn the passing of our members.

On behalf of our members, I offer condolences to the family and friends of two of our members, Barbara Root and Mary Angela Strasser. Barbara, a dedicated teacher, lost her life in a car accident while traveling in participation of a Federation Festival planning event. Mary Angela Strasser, with her larger than life personality, and huge influence on local, state, regional and national Federation, will be sorely missed by everyone in our organization. As we start together on the journey of this presidential term, please take time to reflect upon influences like Barb and Mary Angela in your musical journey.

Our MFMC organization is nearing the milestone of 100 years. It is fun to think about the changes that occurred between the first meeting of interested society ladies in 1914 and the actual formation of MFMC in 1921. I can only imagine the changes during that time: the quiet Edwardian grace giving way to the energetic Flapper influence.

When you attend our upcoming all-member meeting you will have an opportunity to meet a couple of the characters from that time. (Can I convince a certain past President to don full flapper regalia?)

I look forward to serving as your president, meeting with you and hearing your comments and suggestions at the all-member meeting. In the meantime, does anyone know where I can get a deal on a matching gavel and crown? ✨

Junior Composers Summer Program 2013

BY PAT STEEGE

Junior Composers summer program 2013, sporting the theme Words+Music, was held at the University of Minnesota, July 8-20. Thirty-four young composers from around the United States gathered to engage in creativity and to attain higher levels of expression through composing music. In addition to creating musical works, students performed and collaborated to improve each other's work.

Faculty for 2013 were four kid-friendly professional musicians and composers: Dr. Seth Custer, head of the composition department at Bob Jones University in Greenville, SC; Dr. Sarah Miller, composition coordinator at MacPhail Center for Music in St. Paul, MN; Randall Davidson, long-time established composer from Minneapolis and currently Administrative Director of the National Lutheran Choir; and Andy Thompson, prolific songwriter and producer from McNally Smith College of Music in St. Paul, MN.

Readings of student-composed songs were given by well-known Twin Cities soprano Maria Jette, accompanied by Mary Jo Gothmann. Choral works were given a professional reading by The Rose Ensemble of St. Paul. It is a highlight of the Junior Composers' experience to hear their work performed and gently critiqued by professionals.

A typical day at our urban "camp" features theory and ear-training classes, friendship development, private lessons, laughter, quiet breakfasts with sleepy teens and lively lunches with same, leg muscles aching from walking the river bridge to the cafeteria, composing or storytelling until bedtime, daily salons with professionals, and fieldtrips. In 2013, fieldtrips included an evening concert at Lake Harriet and eating hamburgers and ice cream at Annie's Parlour. ☞

Dates for 2014 Junior Composers

- July 7-13 Junior Composers Institute Session #1
- July 7-13 Junior Songwriters Institute
- July 7-19 Junior Composers Studio (two weeks)
- July 13-19 Junior Composers Institute Session #2
- July 13-19 Junior Producers Institute (optional second week for songwriters)

The theme for this year's program is Film + Music. Minnesota Sinfonia will provide professional readings of the students' silent film scores and provide an opportunity to submit a score for the Minnesota Sinfonia contest. Professional recordings of Songwriters' new creations will be made at McNally Smith in St. Paul. Field trips include orchestra concerts and an ice cream social. Mary Angela Strasser

Mary Angela Strasser

BY NADINE BERG

After a long and difficult journey, Mary Angela Strasser passed away on Friday, January 24, 2014, surrounded by good friends and caring nursing home staff. She will be greatly missed.

Mary was a driving force and a seemingly permanent fixture in the life of the Federation of Music Clubs at local, state & national levels. Having attended Federation functions with her mother, Rose Zygmanski, since she was a very young girl, Mary knew all the nooks and crannies, strengths and weaknesses, rules and idiosyncrasies of the organization. She loved every bit of it and was thoroughly dedicated to making things work in the best way possible.

Although she was a stickler for detail, she was flexible and easy to work with. Mary was the go-to person for any question that arose in the life of the Federation. She promoted, organized, and encouraged us. Her wit and use of vocabulary inspired us, even while keeping us all in line.

I am grateful to Mary for prodding me to get involved beyond the local level. We developed a wonderful friendship over the years, especially during long car trips to and from state meetings. Her warm relationships with all of her colleagues and students always deepened into binding friendships. Mary will always remain in our memories and in our hearts. ☺

MFMC Commissions Trio

Chris Wolf of Apple Valley Music Teachers Association (AVMTA) was commissioned by MFMC in April 2013 to write a trio of pieces for solo piano in honor of the late Rose Zygmanski.

Chris has completed two of the three pieces that were inspired by the life and the travels of Rose. The first premier, By Any Other Name, was heard at the August 2013 convention in Lakeville. The second, Bella Rosa, was premiered during a recent AVMTA meeting in the home of D.D. Michael-Mechelke. The two pieces were written for early intermediate students. ☺

Federation members, you are going to love what you have commissioned. We eagerly anticipate the world premier of the third composition. Thank you, Chris.

Re-cap of MFMC's 56th Biennial Convention

BY PAT STEEGE

Applause and accolades to our three hosting clubs for a job well done on the all-member convention — Apple Valley, Burnsville and South Suburban. And thanks to Kathy Wilson, Mary Wescott, and Pat Steege, for pulling together the elements of education, entertainment, and encouragement.

The convention theme, mp-mf Musical Performance-Minnesota Festival, was chosen to depict the difference between Day 1 and Day 2 agendas.

Day 1 featured the all-member meeting, election of officers, and the world premier of Chris Wolf's By Any Other Name, the middle movement of a commissioned suite of piano solos commemorating MFMC's beloved Rose Zygmanski. Club reports were read and discussed. Dr. Christopher Atzinger and Mr. Doug Rohde instructed participants on how to improve musical performances. Members enjoyed student presentations including a stellar performance by Grand Cup winner Matthew VanRisseghem. Six-year-old Iggy Rosado stole the show wearing a Mozart costume while playing his award winning composition The Spooky Lion. Ziggy's mother Shannon Guse was his accompanist. Three students who performed in the Festival honors recital won $50 each for exceptional performance.

Rudy's Redeye Grill catered the evening banquet, serving their famous prime rib. The tables at Holiday Inn Lakeville were beautifully set with the Inn's elegant black and white linens. NFMC President Carolyn Nelson captivated members with her account of the Federation's 120-year-old history.

Members left the banquet hall (or "waddled out," as Pat Steege phrased it) with gifts of red roses and Abdalla chocolate and proceeded to the concert ballroom. The Day 1 evening performance featured pianist Darin Tsydal who performed a Tribute to Gershwin and covered other well-known Gershwin tunes including I Got Rhythm, O Lady be Good, and Swanee. Darin performed three preludes, other concert pieces, and finished with a dreamy Someone To Watch Over Me sung by Mary Wescott.

Day 2 dawned with a breakfast buffet of French toast, bacon and eggs and fresh hot coffee. Jeannene Simonson led a reverent memorial service for five deceased MFMC members, lighting a candle for each of the deceased while friends read tributes. Members sang Hymn of Promise from the official NFMC Songbook "Together We Sing."

On Day 1, the Junior Composers summer camp program was the subject of reports, financial grants, and conversation. In accordance with the convention theme, Day 2 provided opportunity to sing a composition written by 15-year old Christian Messier of Lakeville. Christian composed his piece at the 2013 JC camp at the U of MN.

Also on Day 2, Judy Zylstra guided members through what is new with Festival for 2014 and what is new in the Bulletin. The National organization, "a dignified elderly lady of traditions," is slowly and carefully bending to the age of technology. Therein lies the need to begin preparing in Minnesota. Festival leaders/teachers are now required to submit full names (first, middle, last) of all Juniors to the state treasurer by November 1 of each year and pay a $1.00 per student membership fee. Pat Steege states: "Be aware that eventually birthdates will also be required. By having collected this data ahead of time, we will be better prepared for on-line Festival registration when it finally comes upon us."

National is building a database to track all Festival participants, Juniors and Seniors and their Gold Cup points. This will allow a student who moves to a new location to transfer his/her records without a risk of losing the history of individual trophy points. To put this into perspective, Minnesota has over 5,000 participants in Festival each year; over 90,000 Juniors across the United States participate yearly.

To help piano teachers prepare for the 2014 Festival, Judy Zylstra enlisted the help of seven members plus herself to preview all the piano pieces from Pre-Primary through Medium levels.

Schmitt Music assisted the 56th Biennial Convention by bringing their portable music store for teachers to purchase Festival music at a 20% discount. Also Schmitt provided a nine-foot concert grand Steinway — an iconic symbol of MFMC’s passion for good music. ☺

There is a spiritualizing force to music. With our official Collect we pray that God guides us as we bring this force to the United States, through this nine foot grand piano, through our musicians, and through their voices and instruments, into the buildings and streets of our nation. ~ Pat Steege
